You talk so quiet I cannot understand
And then so fast I cannot comprehend
The words you say are not original
But, still, I long for every story you'll tell

Been around in the whole wide world
And you're still young
Growing up in the sacred world
Can't be undone
All the secrets you won't tell
Eat you inside out
Blind her with a made up smile
When it's something you can hide

Special treatment college girl
When asked, stay quiet
Cannot cope with the real
The real world cannot do
Special treatment college girl
Never grow up again
Cannot cope with the real
The real world cannot do

Between the lines, I hear a different sound
For once you try to say something profound

Special treatment college girl
When asked, stay quiet
Cannot cope with a real world
That I cannot do
Special treatment college
When asked, stay quiet girl
Cannot cope with the real
The real world cannot do
Special treatment college girl
Never grow up again
Cannot cope with the real
The real world cannot do

Special treatment college girl
Cannot hide anymore

Be one with the world
The world was there before

Special treatment college girl
When asked, stay quiet
Cannot cope with the real
