Trying real hard to feel something profound
To understand something that they don't
The only thing that I figured out was a face, a frame, I know it by heart
If you know about scales and books and films, it takes some time til you know that you're down

We're so happy
So happy to meet you
Cause you sparkle

And I'm waiting for it to come
And I'm hoping for better times
When it comes, I will open my mouth
I'll write songs to make you cry
And I'm learning how to travel in time
All to make right the things I've done wrong
And when I do, I will open my mouth
I'm going back, back, back in time

Ba da, ba da, ba da
Ba da, ba da

A reality show is on every night
The same episode over and over again
Friends become foe since I'm ahead
But it turned out they didn't know my name
A candidate good enough for long enough
I have made sense one too many times

We're so happy
So happy to meet you
Cause you sparkle

And I'm waiting for it to come
And I'm hoping for better times
When it comes, I will open my mouth
I'll write songs to make you cry
And I'm learning how to travel in time
All to make right the things I've done wrong
And when I do, I will open my mouth

I'm going back, back, back in time

Ba da, ba da, ba da

Ba da, ba da

And I'm waiting for it to come

And I'm hoping for better times

When it comes, I will open my mouth

I'll write songs to make you cry

And I'm learning how to travel in time

All to make right the things I've done wrong

And when I do, I will open my mouth

I'm going back, back, back in time

And I'm learning how to travel in time

All to make right the things I've done wrong

And when I do, I will open my mouth

I'll write songs that will make you cry

Ba da, ba da, ba da

Ba da, ba da, ba da

Ba da, ba da, ba da

Ba da, ba da
