Life is too far to walk alone
You can't do it on your own
Its like bare hands digging through stone

And if things go down much steeper hills
Even money wont pay these bills
But time will show

People gonna be ok
Storms never come to stay
They just show us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other

And the trials of today
They are signs along the way
To remind us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other

And I can get so high
On myself sometimes
I keep on drifting a million miles
From this planet

But what a shame it would be
To look back on this life
And realize that Ive taken you and you
For granted

People gonna be ok
Storms never come to stay
They just show us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other

And the trials of today
They are signs along the way
To remind us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other

And I cannot see whats a mile around the bend
I do not know where this world is headed
Or where it may end

But you gave me this smile
And so i threw away my frown
And I ainâ€™ t gonna pick up
What I just put down

People gonna be ok
Storms never come to stay
They just show us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other

And the trials of today
To remind us
How bad we need each other
How bad we need each other
