Once upon a wondrous time
A child was born among the stars
The universe began to sing
A song of endless curiosity

The music filled her soul
With unexpected harmony
The dancing notes on an empty page
An unwritten book a trillion miles away

Her journey begun
To someday understand
The cosmic melody now weaving
Through the rainbow of her mind

The magic of reality
Imagine...
The colors of infinity
Imagine...
The chorus of humanity
Imagine...
The truth in place of fantasy

And just imagine the promise
Of one little girl
In learning how to think
Not what to believe
Just imagine..

The magic of reality
Imagine...
The colors of infinity
Imagine...
The chorus of humanity
Imagine...
The truth in place of fantasy

And just imagine the rhythm of her questions
As she discovered
The music played on without a baton
There were so many things
She didn't know...

The magic of reality...
The magic of reality...

How we know what's really true...
