You left without an explanation,
Leaving me with nothing but my foolish pride
I wish we could have had that conversation
The one you wanted all along
Where I admit that I was wrong

Don't I know it now,
I can't escape the lonely sound
Of every tear I made you cry,
Of your last goodbye
I never knew how much I let you down,
But don't I know it now.

All I hear is quiet thunder,
My heart beating lonely in the night
All I do is lie awake and wonder
Why I couldn't see
You mean everything to me.

Don't I know it now
I can't escape the lonely sound
Of every tear I made you cry
Of your last goodbye
I never knew how much I let you down
But don't I know it now

Girl if I could turn back time
I'd change my ways and toe the line
I wouldn't treat you so undid
And you'd still be mine
Don't I know it now...
I can't escape the lonely sound
Of every tear I made you cry
Of you last goodbye
I never knew how much I let you down
But don't I know it now
