"I'm Alive"

Tell me what you really wanna say,
Take that mask off, let me see your face.
Now, it's time to end this charade, it's not real.

Well, I can see right through your lifeless eyes,
When every word was just another lie.
So comfortable in your new disguise, you're not real.

I'm alive, look inside, there's a heart that is beating,
Tell me what that means to you.
I am real, and I can feel every word that cuts through
me,
Must I bleed to prove to you that I'm alive?

Feels like I've been living with a ghost,
And you weren't there when you were needed most.
All your promises were hollow, just like you.

I'm alive, look inside, there's a heart that is beating,
Tell me what that means to you.
I am real, and I can feel every word that cuts through
me,
Must I bleed to prove to you that I'm alive?

I'm alive, look inside, there's a heart that is beating,
Tell me what that means to you.

I am real, and I can feel every word that cuts through
me,
Must I bleed to prove to you that I'm alive?
