Its the worst part of being home, well I'm sitting all alone and your chasing someone else. And you said that i should change my head around, because you lost the feeling now, its with someone else. And ill spend my time, like i don't even care, and i wont say anything at all, although i was always there, a new love, but where is it. And i said that i would turn around, that i would change myself, but you wont work it out. And i watched you runaway, forget everything, forget me.
And ill spend my time, like i don't even care, and i, i wont say anything at all, although i was always there, a new love, but where is it.
