Another day has just begun
And our time is almost gone
You hold my hand

And I have nothing much to say
So I come closer to your face
My morning sun
You whisper: Hun!

For once, I ask you, at least to try
To wonder what we both can have
Without avoiding our sights
'Cause we don't need to hide from them
No More fears no more tears
Just the things that make us laugh
No more lies we've to tell
We'll no longer say goodbye...
Forevermore

I see your hair upon your eyes
Every time it makes me smile
You warm my heart
I know it's time you have to go
Because your eyes just told me so
You kissed my back please,
One last caress

For once, I ask, at least to try
And wonder what we still could have
Without avoiding our sights
'Cause we don't need to hide from them
No More fears no more tears
We'll share fun and tenderness
No more lies we have to tell
We'll no longer say goodbye
Forevermore
