Isn't it crazy how we fell apart
A shot in the dark, is like a mural in space
A love so deep it's like a picture of an endless race Where did it come from
How did we get there, with you
The skyline retreats with every motion baby we went through

The lights, go up, in space
Everyday

The stars align with every call
They whisper every time we fall it's true
The universe beats for you
It rumbles through the atmosphere
To send your lovers every fear
But wait, I'm letting the stars and skies know you're my babe

Isn't crazy, how we never knew
The fate of our world was never in our control
But now that we're sure the universe is just a cloud of smoke
We're starting a war with
The atmosphere and its cruel
But fighting for you, you know there's nothing baby I want to do

The lights, go up, in space,
Everyday

The stars align with every call
They whisper every time we fall it's true
The universe beats for you
It rumbles through the atmosphere
To send your lovers every fear
But wait, I'm letting the stars and skies know you're my

I'll run run run run run
To you forever
Despite the weather

And I'll fight no matter
Whatever happens
And I want ignore
This Cosmic War

The stars align with every call
They whisper every time we fall its true
The universe beats for you
It rumbles through the atmosphere
To send your lovers every fear
But wait, I'm letting the stars and skies know you're my

The stars align with every call
They whisper every time we fall its true
The universe beats for you
It rumbles through the atmosphere
To send your lovers every fear
But wait, I'm letting the stars and skies know you're my
babe

Oh were fighting, a Cosmic War
