yeah

sometimes when you lose that girl that you never meant to hurt but it happen anyway theres just something you cant erase eunice i cant say that dont miss you, lookin back how things couldve been done better so i wrote a letter and 6 months later i wrote this song yeah i did you wrong but im a man that can admit and learn from his wrongs yeah i know i shouldve done better it sucks i didnt realize this when we were together i still wish i had the dreams of us lasting forevver holding hands kissing,us making love do u remember i sure do ,ill never forget you it doesnt seem i can be happy without you and to tell the truth your the best so now i have to settle for least i kills me i did want our kids , i did want your own place were wed live but it crumbled down so i ask myself this question now why r we both not moving on if i could id give us another shot id prove everything u ever doubted in me and what not so when you get that girl best treat them right so when you get that girl appreciate the things that they do for you , but girls appreciate him to so when you actually find love , be like mr n misses smith you two have loaded guns verus the world and your love will be never quit these days it so much easier to find sex then love so when you find love you best keep it around
