Love is the heart beat of the Universe,
It has no boundaries it's very diverse..
We try to explain with limited vocabulary..
The end result an edited news paper story..
People will take someone life for it..
or Sacrifice their own life because of it..
One word can heal the heart's of just two..
or Stop annihilation between two nations by truce...
Love has no language, barrier or limitations..(2x)
It's just re-routed to our other sensations(2x)
We are brought into this world by an act of love..
Then taken from this world from act of above..
Loves make us all colour blind...
So every race is equaled in our minds...
Love can produce miracles among-st the terminally ill..
From an unexplainable force, God's will..
Even if you are born without sight, sound, or speech..
Love will still find you through another's reach...
