You found a home inside a heart
And lost it all with broken feelings
I watch you churn inside your mind
And put it out with double meanings
(chorus)
Well, we're coming home
Weve been searching for a place to call our own
Yeah, we're coming home
All you lonely vagabonds
Looking for a place to call your own
Now, oh, no, no yeah
With blackened face and tired hands
And all the memorys are mistaken
A blinding light from up above
For every truth that youve been faking
(chorus)
Well, we're coming home
Weve been searching for a place to call our own
Yeah, we're coming home
All you lonely vagabonds
Looking for a place to call your own
Lonely days gonna get you callin
Lonely days gonna get you callin
Lonely days gonna get you callin
Lonely days gonna get you callin
Well, we're coming home
Weve been searching for a place to call our own
Yeah, we're coming home
All you lonely vagabonds
Looking for a place to call your own
Well, we're coming home
Weve been searching for a place to call our own
Yeah, we're coming home
All you lonely vagabonds
Looking for a place to call your own
