Everybody told me not to get involved with you
Told me to back off and walk away
Told me just to recognize we're through
Just to disregard the words you say

But you're a little like poison
You're so addicting
Heart contradicted

Dark red lipstick, blonder hair
The more that I changed, the less I cared
All the things that you put me through
I found me when I lost you

Everybody noticed that you always had to make the calls
Told me you weren't worth my time anyway
Noted all the pride before the fall
Don't know why I never questioned anything

But you're a little like poison
You're so addicting
Heart contradicted

Dark red lipstick, blonder hair
The more that I changed, the less I cared
All the things that you put me through
I found me when I lost you

Don't do that Don't do this
Shut up about it and just give me a kiss
Aren't I so good at imitating you
I don't need you

Dark red lipstick, blonder hair
The more that I changed, the less I cared
All the things that you put me through
I found me when I lost you

Dark red lipstick, blonder hair (blonder hair)
The more that I changed, the less I cared (less I cared)

All the things that you put me through
(I found me) I found me when I lost you
