I see you walking 'round, your head is hangin' down
I've been where you are today
I'm here to tell you friend, this is not the end
Even the strongest of hearts will break

There will be those days, that feeling won't go away
You might need someone to talk to
Just call me anytime, baby we can talk all night
You know I'll always be here for you

Some things you learn the hard way
When love has no mercy on you
Just keep your eyes on the sky baby
You've got friends that will pull you through

Sometimes the rain will fall, the sun won't shine at all
Just keep moving on from here
It's out of your hands, 'cause there's a better plan
Love will come again, don't you fear

Some things you learn the hard way
When love has no mercy on you
Just keep your eyes on the sky baby
You've got friends that will pull you through

There are hills and mountains left to climb
You've just got to learn how to get on with your life

Some things you learn the hard way
When love has no mercy on you
Just keep your eyes on the sky baby
You've got friends that will pull you through

You've gotta keep your eye on the sky
Gotta open your eyes....
