Had your number on speed dial
You never answered when I reached out
I looked left, see I looked to the left
I looked right, and to the right
But you weren't there
Where the hell, where the hell were you

24/7 you be there for me
No matter what happened, you'd be there for me
I look up, see I look to the sky
I look down, and to the ground
But you weren't there
Where the hell, where the hell were you

Am I missing some thang
is the network down
in your part of town
You didn't hear the phone ring
Cause you're in the crowd
And your'e busy now

Where were you, in the middle
Where it all went down
Where was you at the bitter end
You said you'd be there
You're the feel, where the love yeah I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend
Where the hell, where the hell were you
You said you'd be there

See I know where you run but Don't think you can come and go when you want
Cause one minute you was here, one minute you was there
But then the next minute you was gone like Yeah, I see you in it for the bling

Cause you in it for the money,
And you in for the cha ching
I'm sorry baby, I ain't giving you a ring
In fact I ain't giving you a thing, where you've been

Am I loosing my mind
Say you're ill in bed huh
Not what your facebook said
Am I wasting my time
If you're really gone, why am I holding on

Where were you, in the middle
Where it all went down
Where was you at the bitter end
You said you'd be there
You're the feel, where the love yeah I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend
Where the hell, where the hell were you
You said you'd be there

Am I missing some thang
is the network down
in your part of town
You didn't hear the phone ring
If you really down, why am I holding on

Where were you, in the middle
Where it all went down
Where was you at the bitter end
You said you'd be there
You're the feel, where the love yeah I understand
Where were you when I needed a friend
Where the hell, where the hell were you
You said you'd be there

Where the hell, where the hell were you
Where the hell, where the hell were you
Where the hell, where the hell were you
Where the hell, where the hell were you
Where were you, where were you
Where were you, where were you.
