[Incomprehensible]

So now I'm steppin' away
Like a window I can see right through ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

So now I'm steppin' away
I can only give so many chances to ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

I payed my debts, I payed our way up out the 409
I thought you crashed your whip and through the windshield, maybe died
You had me stressin' on you, worried 'bout you all the time
You don't realize it's hard to tell between the truth and lies

So now I know exactly how you get down
So now I'ma go 'cause I don't need this ish now
I'm on the phone, I'm talkin' to this chick now
She gonna pick me up at your house

They say the truth hurts but lies hurt more in the long run
Thinking that you're fooling somebody, baby, you are one
The moment you been gone but I gotta forget you
I'm just trying to feel something real

So now I'm steppin' away
Like a window I can see right through ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

So now I'm steppin' away
I can only give so many chances to ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

Remember when you told me we was gon' get by
We had it on lock, you looked me in the eye 6 months later I'm wondering why I'm still listening to
lies
I hadn't the faintest idea but I sat right there

Gave you the benefit of the doubt, to hear what you saying
'Cause we all human beings but it seems you still schemin'
Just lyin' in life, livin' a lie that you believing
You was tweakin' but you had me convinced

And now I'm convinced you need counseling and maybe some medicine
I need to step, cut ties, I know how you get
You living a double life I can't be involved with Never no more, what I look like fallin' for that again

Worried sick of about ya till I'm sick of being 'round yo ass
I just hope you get it together
'Cause right now this is the hardest thing
For me ever

So now I'm steppin' away
Like a window I can see right through ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

So now I'm steppin' away
I can only give so many chances to ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

Don't follow me this time
Singing the same little sad song
I'm shutting it down, so that don't happen again
Too many tries, gotta move on

And if we meet down the line
Singing the same little sad song
We gotta get by so I'm walking away till then I'm saying good bye, gotta get by

So now I'm steppin' away
Like a window I can see right through ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth

So now I'm steppin' away

I can only give so many chances to ya
We all make our share of mistakes
All I ever wanted was the truth
(All I really wanted, that's all I need)

All I ever wanted was the truth
(That's all I ever wanted)
All I ever wanted was the truth
(That's all I ever wanted)

All I ever wanted was the truth
(All I ever wanted)
All I ever wanted was the truth
All I really wanted, that's all I really wanted
