"Anthem"

I stand beneath a force that sees in shadows in the light

And in reverse I feel the curse from darkness in the night

And though my fear is ending near

I know I'll be alright

But oh my love, we shall not fear

For hope is always

Hear within the music,

There is only beauty infused with the air.

(And as the days go by)

Days go by, my strength is tried, an enemy is there

As we make war to end this score, the fight will not be fair

But I am not alone

I swear on this, my own life,

We are all for one,

And you are one for all who fall
