It's not too late to be late, yeah that's alright, we got time

But I hate it that I've waited here and you made it clear that fate ain't kind

And you, you're not mine, no you're not mine, oh no youâ€™ re not mine.

I'm sorry this won't work, but honestly why can't you see

It's hurting me, just let it be

Oh it's okay, that's my mistake, cause if you're too much for me to take

(Then I'll give) Give it up, just give it in

(And give) Iâ€™ m pushing back in hope that youâ€™ ll just

(And give) Give away those shades of grey

(And give) Replace the vague with something I can take

You were just a girl, bought with big blue eyes and pearls

Stealing all my heart and all my world

You're just a girl, but in my world, you're just my girl

Why am I a little scared to lose something that wasn't even there

I'll scowl at you then hide a smile, I've been hiding this for quite a while

Try to be brave, and I'll try to save every part of me that you gave away.

(So I can take) Take some time to make you mine, then I'll be fine and then I can just (Take) Take it all in, let it sink in, now I think I'm needing you to

(And take) Take your fears with all my tears

(And take) And make them disappear like my mistakes

I don't know if I am right, if I should go or stay and fight

You can go, but you won't leave you know, you know you can believe

If you and I, decide to say our last good-bye, and walk away

Then I will run to where you are 'cause we're not done, it's time that I

(Forgive) I'm giving up, I'm giving in, I'm giving out, I'm taking him

(I'll take) Just take some time to take this in

Just take your heart and follow it

And in the end, when you and I begin

I will give (I will give)

I will give (I will give)

I will give (I will give)

All of me to you
