Title: Sadly Smiling Through

You're talking like you're leaving
You said it's your heart and not my call to Make you feel like feeling
You were so ashamed when I fell on my two feet again
And God I hated your friends
I gave you love they could never buy
Or even try to understand
The part of me that it came from
Don't you see that

(Chorus)
Sadly I'm smiling through
All the truth that you took
And the lies that you told me
There's nothing that I can do
With the promise you made
That you'd never remember
No coming back for you
It hurts so much to feel all this pain
And so I haven't felt lately
No coming back for you, back to...

Did you even notice it when I changed?
'Cause I could score in your heart,
But I could never place
And did I forget to say
I was so proud of you
When things were caving in
And things were tough, I know

I didn't say that I loved you enough
But just cause I wasn't saying it
Doesn't mean that I wasn't thinking it

(Chorus)
Sadly I'm smiling through
All the truth that you took

And the lies that you told me
There's nothing that I can do
With the promise you made
That you'd never remember
No coming back for you
It hurts so much to feel all this pain
And so I haven't felt lately
No coming back for you, back to...

And my confusion made clear

(Chorus)

Sadly I'm smiling through
All the truth that you took
And the lies that you told me
There's nothing that I can do
With the promise you made
That you'd never remember
No coming back for you
It hurts so much to feel all this pain
And so I haven't felt lately
No coming back for you, back to you
