

One Less Reason "Someday"

I'd help you if you went down
I'd take your place if your soul's for sale
But you weren't coming around just to leave

I want to fall in love again
Maybe I could find a sucker or even a friend
I'd keep you around til I leave

You're sensitive to all the sounds
Cause you feel pain like no one else
You're gonna regret it all if you leave, if you leave

Was that the way they get back at you?
And how they all said "I'll see you soon"
We close the door and we never do
We just leave, we just leave

Everyone says "best of intentions, they die with goodbye"

Well...

I fear that someday love might save me
I hear that someday's on its way
I know I'm wrong but I'm not changing
It's harder to hold when it's worth letting go
When it's worth letting go

Do you remember the day, remember the song?
Remember how everything went wrong?
When you renewed your faith but you didn't feel saved
You said to be a savior you're taking so damn long

And it feels so wrong

I fear that someday love might save me
I hear that someday's on its way
I know I'm wrong but I'm not changing
It's harder to hold, it's harder to hold
When it's worth letting go, when it's worth letting go

I fear that someday love might save me

I hear that someday's on its way
I know I'm wrong but I'm not changing
It's harder to hold when it's worth letting go
