One Less Reason
"Wortheless (a Lifetime Burning Version)"

Album: A Lifetime Burning

And tell me where we go from this point
I didn't see him bring you down
It seems like yesterday I had seen you
I try so hard just to say your name
And I'd rather die than disappoint you
For me to be free from me, I must be free from you

Remember the times I sat on your lap
The way you'd always touch my knees
It seems like yesterday I was fading
I feel your hands still touch my face
And all I wanted from you was to love me
For me to be free from you, I must be free from...

(Chorus)
Me!
But now you fade away
You're all I was before
And now you fade away
Your eyes I once adored
But now you fade away
Give me one last kiss before,
Before you fade away
You're all I have anymore

Blood pressure starts to rise
Within these closed-in places
Feels like the Son of God just reached out and grabbed
me
I've never seen you smile
In all your million faces
You haven't tears enough for what you've done to me
Oh God, why?..
Blood pressure starts to rise
Within these closed-in places
Feels like the Son of God reached out and grabbed me
I've never seen you smile
In all your million faces
You haven't tears enough for what you've done...

(Chorus)
But now you fade away
You're all I was before
And now you fade away
Your eyes I once adored
But now you fade away
Give me one last kiss before,
Before you fade away
Why did you fade?

Blood pressure fades away
Why did you fade away?
Feels like the Son of God just reached out and grabbed
me
I never fade away
Why did you fade away?
You haven't tears enough for what you've done to me

Blood pressure fades away
Why did you make me stay?
Feels like the Son of God just reached out and grabbed
me
I never fade away
I just needed to say
You haven't tears enough for what you've done...
