In a silent way
I lie under heavy drapes
Just to mask away
Light from the coming day

When, when, when we're older
When, when, when we're older
Can I still come over?

Hold our naked sheets
A colored breath we'll see
Here nods on top of me
Oh how the heart it beats

When, when, when we're older
When, when, when we're older
Can I still come over?
Can I still come over?
Can I still come over?
Can I still come over?

When we're older
Can I still come over?
When we're older
Can I still come over?
When we're older
Can I still come over?
When we're older
Can I still come over?

When, when, when we're older
When, when, when we're older
