how could I be happy on a day like today when i can't even breathe i should put myself away and run how could i feel lucky gettin' what i just received took it in the ass all that gravel and broken glass those are scars that last does this make it over? i know.
come down, breathless heather -- i know soggy little nothings, that's all they really are rotted too long in there better give them all some air they're just lies i have told a couple now that's a lie right there, i've told so many more but i'm not keeping score god, i love your smile
does this make it over? i know.
