Darkness surrounds us and we're driving through the storm
The night was so perfect 'till you said
You'd take me home
I look through the window and I pray you'll understand
Things that I've been telling you time and time again
Won't you try to hear me out
Maybe that would clear your doubt
Baby won't you park the car relax and listen
Let's just take it slow for a start
'Coz rushing me will be in vain
Listen to the Calming Rain
Nothing's wrong with living apart
So rushing me will be in vain
Listen to the Calming Rain
Once I was living in a cold relationship
There was no time for passion
But he held me in a grip
We fought every moment and he killed my confidence
And he said I needed him time and time again
I forgot the world outside and I lost my needs and pride
So how can I be reproached when I've found freedom
Let's just take it slow... a.s.o.
Won't you try to hear me out
Maybe that's gonna clear your doubt
Baby won't you park the car relax and listen
Let the sound of raindrops make you calm
Let's just take it slow... a.s.o.
