Life's one big routine, all the days go by Seems like years and months are just passing by
We have all got dreams that we want to come true
But those that realise them are few
Some don't reach their goals, but at least they've tried
We are scared of letting go
Scared of losing our foothold
Now's the time to dare

This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Or you will regret it all
When you're old and grey
This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Do it now don't say it can wait
Coz tomorrow can be too late

You might think they're nuts, all those mountaineers
But they still fulfil dreams and brave their fears
Say you want a change, but today isn't right
I say the right day will not be in sight
Unless you realise, things don't change themselves
No one else but you can choose
Now what have you got to lose
Do it while you can

This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Or you will regret it all
When you're old and grey
This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Do it now don't say it can wait
Coz tomorrow can be too late

To break up your life and to start up a new
Takes courage and confidence, that is true
We have all got dreams
But don't give up your schemes
No one else but you can choose

Now what have you got to lose
Grab it while you can

This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Or you will regret it all
When you're old and grey
This is your Chance Of A Lifetime
So do not hesitate
Do it now don't say it can wait
Coz tomorrow can be too late
