A cold desert everywhere
The silence will make me go insane.
Is this just an awful nightmare?
Something that runs around my brain?
Could this come true by too much trust
By being guided through the dust?
Watching from the first row
The powerful show for the world
Can both be seen and heard

Afraid of Dazzle Light
Afraid of lasting night
Afraid of something that
Scares me to death
Scares me to death
So fast.- no man, no deface light

So small in a huge world
I stay inside frightened to be hurled
Into a place I don't belong
So I trust them what's right or wrong
Depression and a land in crises
Make your big leader throw the dice
You trust and believe
The powerful show is a need

Afraid of Dazzle Light
Afraid of lasting night
Afraid of something that
Scares me to death
Scares me to death
So fast.- no man, no deface light
Bright Light, bright light

Breathing, feeling, precious to be alive
Breathing, feeling, wanting to stay alive

Reasons to live and reasons to give
All is alive, days passing by
Reasons to live and reasons to give
So much to do but panic paralyses

Don't say that our history
Was more human than we'll ever be
I open my eyes now and then
But frightened I shut them fast again
The only difference is the things we use
Cos nowadays no one can fail, win or lose
So smile and enjoy
The powerful show for the world

Afraid of Dazzle Light
Afraid of lasting night
Afraid of something that
Scares me to death
Scares me to death
So fast - no man, no deface light
Some trust and some put up a fight
