In my dream, when the moon I reach
Sun can't bleach memories of you
You were mine 'til that day in time
Now those days are long gone, but I'm still here
Through the galaxies I'm evading
From the Earth, from all my pain
I see now this is not what I chose
What I am, a shadow of what I have been
So, what is an angel, I've seen none of those
But I hope they'll find me and what I hold within
I was blind, so naïve and young
Unaware of the slow decay
Yesteryear I was blind but loved
Now I see what I had is all I have
How I feel this is not what I chose
What I am, a shadow of what I have been
So, what is an angel, I've seen none of those
But I hope they'll find me and what I hold within
Through the galaxies I'm evading
From the Earth, from all my pain
