Sometimes I'm tired of fight for you
And you are tired of fight for me
When I would search for something new
Your smile doesn't let me leave

I know sometimes I lose the will
To make you believe
All the colors all the flowers that you see
Mean the same to me

But there's a part within me
What will never show up to you
Understand sometimes I need a place
To be alone

Hold on!

All the dreams we hunted
All the things that we did
I still see them in your eyes
All the feelings we shared
All the words that we said
No one can take them away from us

When I first kissed your lips
In the summer of '06
Remember we were so alive
When we left our secrets
Just remember
Those were the sweetest nights!

We can bring it back!
I know!
