There's no wrong in what is right
Seems to me you've been misguided
All the guidelines out of sight
-you live a lie-
What's the drive in your head

All this time, you try and try to fit their truth
All this time, you're just too blind to clear your view

What are you waiting for if nothing in this world can make you happy
You're in control
What are you waiting for,
you'll never turn into the one you can't be Set your own goals
Are you still here?

Clear to me you've been misled
As a friend I try to warn you Cause you'll end up hurt instead
-I know I'm right-
What's the drive in your head

Cast away those dreams are fake, your mind, confused
Every day your heroes change and so do you

What are you waiting for
if nothing in this world can make you happy
You're in control
What are you waiting for,
you'll never turn into the one you can't be
Set your own goals
Are you still here?

You should know better than, better than this I'm sick of trying to save you Can't save you now

What are you waiting for
if nothing in this world can make you happy
You're in control
What are you waiting for, youâ€™ll never turn into the one you canâ€™t be Set your own goals

Are you still here?
