

Natania

"The Letter"

Visit "The Letter" on MotoLyrics.com

I remember me tugging your shirt
While your pulling away
Your eyes were so cold but I could tell
You were begging to stay

I can still feel your button up shirt
Holding all my tears
And even when you were telling me to let go
I could feel you lingering on and on

Iâ€™ll write you a letter
Iâ€™ll put it away
Maybe Decemberâ€™s when Iâ€™ll send it your way
Maybe by next year
Things would have changed
Cause Iâ€™ll be better
And youâ€™ll be better for me

Now that your gone and Iâ€™m growing I can finally see that
You were the ocean and no matter how hard I swam
Iâ€™d never make it past your wave

I can still feel your salty lips kiss away my fears
I can still feel your ocean breeze whispers in my ear

Iâ€™ll write you a letter
Iâ€™ll put it away
Maybe Decemberâ€™s when Iâ€™ll send it your way
Maybe by next year
Things would have changed
Cause Iâ€™ll be better
And youâ€™ll be better for me

Iâ€™ll ride my bicycle to our grocery store
Our song comes on when I walk through the door

Iâ€™ll order chai latte at our old cafÃ©
When Tthey ask where you are I don't know what to say

Iâ€™ll write you a letter

Put it away
Maybe December's when I'll send it your way
Maybe by next year
Things would have changed
Cause I'll be better
Oh I'll be better
Oh I'll be better

I'll write you a letter
I'll put it away
Maybe December's when I'll send it your way
Maybe by next year
You would have changed
Cause I'll be better
And you'll be better

Visit Natania page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.