I come apart
I unravel
Unless there is a plan for me
Step by step
Won't you grab my broken hand
Guide me through this misery

These forsaken lands
Uninhabited remains
They ache for the simple breathe of life
A lifeless light
Seen only by the blind
Attracting not even a firefly

Left alone
You are gone forever
I envy you until we meet again
Bear this storm of the never

These forsaken lands
Uninhabited remains
They ache for the simple breathe of life
A lifeless light
Seen only by the blind
Attracting not even a firefly

The fruit of no tree
Will endure the harsh landscape
Of my inside
In this paradigm we weave
Not even the apple of Eve
Even the apple of Eve

You have come face to face
With the inevitable and won
You were spared my own poison
Inside nothing can survive

These forsaken lands
Uninhabited remains
They ache for the simple breathe of life
A lifeless light

Seen only by the blind
Attracting not even a firefly
