it all makes sense when you've got there two cents but the words were just meant for play your shoulders out stretched so there tears can be fetched

and they've got you there to calm them down see them all day and they lead you in a way you hate that you were blind in the beginning best friends in the end a bad trend as a train led far and wide start to learn quick how the brain works sick and you're scared as to what you'll find words move fast like a bullets smooth path and you have no way to fell content all of the others saw it but I was blind as a bat all of the others knew it but I was pulled into her trap
