Sometimes I find the words I wish that I said to you I could not speak without fear of wondering what was true

Truth is I'm scared to give up this control
Loosen my grip, tossed by winds, tumbling in the cold

Chorus
I'm letting go,
Catch me while I'm falling down
Blow after blow I will land on solid ground
Cause we were good, I know

Sometimes I burn, rail against mistakes that I have done
Often I yearn to fight these ways in me and overcome (Could you be loved?)
I don't know how that feels (Despite yourself?)
I believe but want to know it's real

Chorus
So I'm letting go,
Catch me while I'm falling down
Blow after blow I still stand on solid ground
Cause we were good, I know

I am sure we were something to write home about
I need a cure, it's your love turn me inside out

I'm letting go
These ways me aren't set in stone
I'll heed these words
I never want to leave you in this world alone.

So I'm letting...
Now I'm letting go
