I got myself all tangled
You know that I couldn't let you be
When we kissed and started this
You got yourself all tangled in me

Ohhhhh

The new man takes over
He's here to fight the old man's war
Hold 'round my neck like a fetter
Mmm, I've been here before

Ohhhhh

Chorus

Oh you let me in when I came knocking at your door
Oh I know that all was fair in love and war

Now where you gone, where you run?
Where'd you fall when the the bombs tore through what would be?
And did you fall into the arms of another when you had yourself all tangled in me...

Ohhhhh

Chorus

Yes I know that all was fair in love and war

Ohhhhh
