You walk down shadows path, eyeless and confused you seek the lonley Angel, together you will choose,
in her hands the future but in your hands the fate,
ripped and torn asunder to pass through this gate. she guides you to your destiny she guides you to your fate dismiss the temptation and pass through his gate.

The demons burn and taste your skin decapatate your heads,
we walk eyless and confused through this fiery hate.
the cavern smells of sweat in the air you taste the blood, get pushed on these stakes and fall on pools of blood

The Lost Angels!
blood get pushed on these stakes and fall in pools of blood!

you seek the lonley Angel together you will choose,
in her hands the future but in your hands the fate
ripped and torn asunder to pass through this gate.

blood,
get pushed on these stakes and fall in pools of blood!
