We came too close to something truly beautiful
But I fell through a thousand skies to find me all alone
I can't remember how I used to Feel so free
I don't know why I brought this damn love down over me

I am a mess and I don't blame you
I am a mess and I don't blame you
I am a mess and I don't blame you
I am a mess and hell yeah I blame you

I kept my silence but I'm sinking like a stone
This is a constant war don't want this for my home
I tried to pull me in but running out of rope
In this erratic state I'd better be alone
