had a dream last night, you were in it woke up sad i was missing you you didn't see me, i was on the other side of the glass i was pacing, hoping our eyes would meet you were painting at your desk in a very pretty summer dress

i wish i could say that love goes away but it stays forever

got up, wrote you a letter, don't want to bother you if i ever hurt your feelings I am so sorry please forgive me there is another lover in your life and that is dandy I am lonely and kind of empty. don't want any girlie but she you don't have to write me back, smile back, tell me not to dream of you and thats ok if you need a friend, I'll be your friend everyday of my life

I'll be your friend
