"No More Fighting"

baby why you packing your bags are you really truly mad if it was something i said, i am sorry let's go climb Stone Mountain gets some sunshine on your skin i said some stupid things, i know you're hurting don't let it be the end of us we need more smiles no more fuss if you really gonna leave, then i won't stop you no more, no more fighting so you run to Florida, then up to Savannah maybe because Los Angeles is a nightmare California can be cruel i can yell and be cruel too you are stubborn, so am i, we need each other guess who's watching the dog we go on long lazy walks we miss your touch and kind words
