"Dream In A"

Just fall into yourself, now deeper still within yourself
Where choices are decisions and they're made
And all of this will open unafraid
Now climb, to a safer place
Now fly, higher still above that place
And look at all the stars in the sky
Orion and the moon
Regardless they are watching over you
Go down to the ocean
Fall down on your knees
Look up at the sky, it's okay to cry
Cause all of this will pass, and so will I
But time, I don't have none
Then why... why then do you beg for some
I don't even know if I trust you anyway
No, wait another minute
I think I'll take that back
I told you I would be here, and I am
I am
