I got your message
I know it's hard to say "I'm Sorry" all the time When I think about the things that you wrote and then I tore it up and threw out your note can't you see that this is killing when you don't know where you've been and the light before you keeps on burning out then you find the strength to move on but feel like giving in cause nothing seems to work out in the end well, here we go again with all the lies that were spoken and all the promises ever made you were gone when i needed you most i don't expect that much to change you come running to me when your world crumbles down again there is one thing that I'm sure you won't understand that I won't go through this again

No I won't be the one you come running to No I won't be the shoulder you cry on when you come running to me when
your world crumbles down again There is one thing that I'm sure you won't understand

that I won't go through this again

no not again
