I took a walk around the world to see if what everyone was telling me
is true

but as I walked around this great big world the only thing I could think about is you

there's so many things I want to tell you there's so many things I want to say as you turned and walked away you just turned and walked away

if what everyone was telling me
is true
