It's kind of obvious to see what you try to do You were so weak and you looking desperate for something new

But Time has changed, there are no rules and we cannot lie
The universe is shrinking, we're just living by

Don't push me out from the circle where i used to be you just want to leave me out where I cannot see but little girl you are not a star
you walk and act like the queen of roses all the time

To realize that you were not a part of me
Was something that I already knew but I couldn't see

But Time has changed, there are no rules and we
cannot lie
The universe is shrinking, we're just living by

you just want to leave me out where I cannot see
but little girl you are not a star
you walk and act like the queen of roses all the time

you just want to leave me out where I cannot see
you walk and act like the queen of roses all the time
