

Of X & Y "Broken"

More than you gotta move, you've gotta keep moving
That's what they told me if I wanna stay afloat
And it's been 18 hours and I'm still here alone
You haven't called me back so I wonder if your coming home,
And I know myself that it's not my place to judge you
To be wrong or right here
But I don't smoke, 'cause there are better ways to die
I never drive faster than guardian angels fly

Its not your fault that I'm wrong
But you couldn't try to stop me down
It's not your fault that I'm wrong
It's not my place to pull you along
(Oh I blame you)

Did I just break a mirror, or is bad luck just coincidence?
Did I step on the crack in the pavement or is there something more?
'Cause it's getting hard to see any light coming through your window
And I know myself that it's not my place to judge you
To be wrong or right here
And this diatonic mind of mine is sounding like it's tearing us apart again
Who am I to blame?

Its not your fault that I'm wrong
But you couldn't try to stop me down
It's not your fault that I'm wrong
It's not my place to pull you along
(Oh I blame you)

Oh I blame you
