Carved in a stone
A story that I can't remember
Left it all alone
Walked under the tree together
Some days are easier than others
Stood above the cliffs
Starred into the violent ocean
Wondering if this is us just going through the motions
Uh oh it's really coming down outside

We were born to shake this storm
So we're moving on
You're the only one I need
This is the place to be
With you and me

Your sentimental lips
Such a sucker for the movies and the compliments
Easier to give than receive
I could say anything I want to
A little attitude
Just enough to keep me on my feet and into you
What if I could be your only one?
The one to hold you when everyone is gone

We were born to shake this storm
So we're moving on
You're the only one I need
This is the place to be
With you and me

Just you and me
It's dark outside
A lullaby
I'm sitting back and I'm watching you
I know you feel the same way too
It's something I just can't describe
So I won't even try..

We were born to shake this storm
So we're moving on
You're the only one I need

This is the place to be
With you and me
