Exitsense, wanna-be, try another frequency.
Imitate chance and fate, yes we will investigate.
Just to whistle in the dark.
The future is a drowning shark.
We just have time to prepare them a grave in the air.

Eros to agape (some static on the line):
The bombings of eden are already done.
The collective unconscious wants dollars, not wine,
The planes are going home and it sure was fun.
The perfect hand with the perfect manicure
Made his man out of perfect manure.
He turns the rivers, he praises the dead,
But who turns the milk and who sends him to bed?
Independency
Electricity Prosperity
- electrification's a must for young nations.

Was the world as i heard holocausted by a word?
- cheap appeal just to feel that it's not really real.
Hang on to the power line
In these glorious cast-iron times;
Perpetrate or burn your hate or feel the weight of the democrator.

Agape answers: my happiest hour
Was when one had just become three.
Those monks on fire in the eiffel tower
Were really nice for a christmas tree.
There's too much noise, there are far too many nations,
It's too hard to find the toilets on victoria station.
To know what makes the disc go round
Is to know why the fishes swim upside down.
Legislation
Revelation Integration
- some corporations seek world domination.

(whispered text left channel)
The petrochemical buddha settles for uncontroversial glass, steel and registration of political views. the phantom defeat is a girl's best friend next to the doctor. no paper has mentioned that they're experimenting on human brain cells at the random corporation in order to certify the existence of a universal code of honor. this is the future. there are many solutions. this is the way i look into your eyes. do you mind?

(whispered text right channel)

So, what reason can be given to make an attempt on one's own life? no loss to fear, no cross to bear in stations. i reached for my '45 and pulled a blanket over it as we drew nearer. they're experimenting on human brain cells in order to certify the existence of a universal code of honor. dynamite now for the future.
this is the past. there is no enemy. this is the way i look into your eyes. do you mind?
