The evening I can hear it the wind is talking to the sky There's no two ways about it the wind is getting no reply.
Clouds roll in and turn to grey tears as big as the sea.

Go away, go away my starlight
Go away, go away you are not welcome tonight
you are not welcome tonight
I'll write you off until it's time

awake inside the dark my eye peel open on alert I see you from afar still tryna get me to convert field of cotton drenched in light miles of endless flowers

Go away, go away my starlight
Go away, go away you are not welcome tonight
you are not welcome tonight
I'll write you off until it's time
I'll write you off until it's time

veer off the beaten path and I wanna know if this is life

Go away, go away my starlight Go away, go away you are not welcome tonight (go away)
Go away, go away go away my starlight (go away)
Go away, go away you are not welcome tonight
you are not welcome tonight
I'll write you off until it's time
