

Orphan Twins "Lucky Me"

Visit "Lucky Me" on MotoLyrics.com

Always had a thorn in my side
And feeling bitter about my life
The months and years pass, they multiply
Just grow an old man and then I'd die

I watch the people walking by
Such a perfect life
I must have been born under a bad sign
But now it's plain to see
That nothing's meant to be
Lucky me

Walk through the park on a sunny day
Just to find I'm caught in the rain
A vicious cycle, I can't explain
This cruel misfortune drives me insane

I watch the people walking by
Such a perfect life
I must have been born under a bad sign
But now it's plain to see
That nothing's meant to be
Lucky me

And when I met you, I was a wreck
In a state of emotional arrest
But then you changed me
Who would have guessed?
Maybe I'm no different from the rest

I watch the people walking by
Such a perfect life
I must have been born under a bad sign
But now that you are with me
I am starting to believe
Lucky me

Visit Orphan Twins page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.