We live for, we yearn for
The things that we're born for Yesterday's today's tomorrow

We die for, we try for
The things that we long for
If needed beg, steal, and we'll borrow

If the morning light will lead you
And no weapon will defeat you

Winter comes, skies to gray
It's the same old same old every day
And where it starts is where it ends
I feel your pain
So run the lights, catch a plane
I know you just wan to win you see my friend
Life is just a game

The meanings, the reasons,
The set backs, the seasons
Come and go neglect the sorrow

The shadows, the angels
That walk trough this strange world
Knowing which one I will follow

If the morning light will lead you
And no weapon will defeat you

Winter comes, skies to gray
It's the same old same old every day
And where it starts is where it ends
I feel your pain
So run the lights, catch a plane
I know you just wan to win you see my friend
Life is just a game

Oh let me live it now
Oh let em feel it now
Oh let me break it down
I know I see the this ain't the end for me

Oh try and stop me now
Oh I will hit the ground
Oh I will turn around

I do believe that this world ain't done with me

Winter comes, skies to gray
It's the same old same old every day
And where it starts is where it ends
I feel your pain
So run the lights, catch a plane
I know you just wan to win you see my friend
Life is just a game
