"Gonna Get It"

You can hide away from the devil you can find a way to chose you can keep your senses ticking but it aint so hard to lose

Quietly throttle up my senses recruits the sleeping mind playing games with the game cold hearted and things I've left behind

You've got to hold on to somethings from a thousand years
A million houses burning to give me pain and the taste of fear

* GONNA GET IT YOU GONNA GET IT

Here in the softness of salvation somewhere I lost my pride close my eyes and see the world within and open to a hopeful mind

I've been watching in the pages of history people getting away with crime Innocence is lost in a moment not in passage of time

years...

When that something started going I had no one but myself....
