What have you done, think you deserve anything and everything? That's not how it is, we are the ones who justify everything by the deeds we possess, adding up righteousness.
When they are all ashes, they will never make us blameless.
We are guilty for the crimes we commit and keep repeating.
We cover them up with a front.
When will we realize we are the source of chaos?
Our works are rags turned into ashes.
The good we have done does not reach salvation.
Our motives reveal death, living forever is a gift.
Simplicity has left confusion, an image of what good means has been tainted with our disease. Reaching for that image will slowly kill.
Corrupts, to destroy everything at will.
You came to us to prove Your splendor.
We try alone and fall into destruction.
Our efforts are meaningless,
we can't save ourselves. We will fail, our attempts are void. It's not what we have done but everything You have done for us.
What You have done for us.
We can't save ourselves, we need Your help.
You can save us, You will never fail,
You are the one to make things right despite the cover up that we are fine. Our works are rags turned into ashes. It's not what we have done but everything You have done for us. What you have done for us.
